Message Communications, Inc.

I want to sincerely thank Message communications for saving my business from ruin. Before we came across message communications we tried unsuccessfully all forms of very expensive advertising including mailers, predictive dialers, Lead providers, newspaper ads, telemarketers, all of these forms of marketing produced minimal or no results. Moreover, we spent thousands of dollars and we were losing a lot of money, and our profit margin was extremely low.

Thanks to the technology and cost effectiveness of message communication and the control it allows you to have over our campaigns, our profits have more than quadruple, while at the same time maintaining our costs to a minimum. The rule of business is to invest 30% of your revenue in advertising to be successful in any type of business. We invest less than 5% of our revenue in our campaigns thank to the effectiveness of the system of message communications.

We have been able to squeeze our leads to a maximum. Thanks to message communication we get the press 1, second we get the people that see the number on the caller id and call back and leave a message, and we get the people that press 1 that hung up and we call back to solicit. If you are not able to make money with message communications, you may as well look for another line of business to be in. Finally, I have a heavy Latin accent, and I am still successful with message communications.

Sincerely,

Danielle Maness
